

George Liu, MD

Dr. George Liu serves as the President, CEO of the Chinese American IPA Inc., d/b/a Coalition of Asian- American IPA (CAIPA), and the Chairman of the Management Services Organization (CAIPA MSO), and as the Chairman of Asian American Accountable Care Organization (AAACO) boards. As an internist and endocrinologist, Dr. Liu has been continuously providing quality care to his patients and contributing to the well-being of the Asian American communities he has been serving since 1985. In addition to his private practices, he has been an attending physician at various hospitals, such as New York-Presbyterian Lower Manhattan Hospital, Mount Sinai Beth Israel, and NYU Langone Medical Center. Dr. Liu was the Founder of the first Asian Diabetic Center in New York.

Dr. Liu has received numerous distinctions and honors, including an award from the American Diabetes Association. Top Doctors: New York Metro Area" list by Castle Connolly every year for the last 20 years, and the "Best Doctor" by New York Magazine and the Ellis Island Medal of Honor in 2020. Dr. Liu is also recognized and received multiple citations from the U.S. Congress, New York State Senate, Assembly, New York City Council, and Commendation from the Mayor of New York City, and the Office of the Controller. Over the years, he has had various research articles published in collaboration with other distinguished physicians.

Under Dr. Liu and his administrative leadership team, starting from 1994, CAIPA has flourished into a strong organization with over 1500 physician members and affiliates serving more than 500,000 Asian American residents in the greater New York area now. CAIPA has been regarded by the New York State and New York Health Plans as the model IPA by providing the highest quantity, cost effective and culturally sensitive care to the community.